MEMORIAL DAY

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL WON FIRST IN CONTEST.

WAS WELL OBSERVED

Contest Held in First Christian Church to Large Audience—Exercises at Franklin School Grove.

The Sunday school chorus from the First Christian church won the prize offered by the G. A. R. in the musical contest of Decoration day. The second prize was awarded to the First Methodist Sunday school. The judges of the contest were Mrs. Harry Todd, Miss Marie Jones and Miss Mary Q. Evans.

The day was well observed in Maryville Saturday. A big crowd attended the musical contest held in the First Christian church and the patriotic exercises at the Franklin school park. The banks, postoffice, county and city offices were closed for the day and no newspapers were issued.

J. T. Karr, commander of Sedgwick post, G. A. R., had charge of the services of the day. Following the musical contest at the church a line of march was formed to the park, the procession including the members of Sedgwick post, the W. R. C., Sunday school teachers, pupils, fraternal orders and citizens, headed by the fife and drum corps.

At the park a fine patriotic program was given. Addresses were made by Rev. Lewis M. Hale and Captain Charles Hyslop and Rev. Robert L. Finch. Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg was read by Prof. Harry Miller of the Normal, and the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by Mrs. Fred P. Robinson with a quartet chorus which included Miss Phylis Sayler, Rev. Gilbert S. Cox and Orlo Quinn.

The prizes, which were $5 for the first and $4 for the second, were presented by Nathaniel Sisson to the Christian church and First M. E. church Sunday schools.

The Maryville people report having been treated in a most royal manner by Clarinda. IS THE LAST CALL

FOR OFFICE SEEKERS FOR THE AUGUST PRIMARY.

FRIDAY THE LAST DAY

Democratic Ticket Has One Place That No One Has Filed For—The Republicans Have Several.

County Clerk George W. Demott has sounded the last call for would-be office holders. Friday of this week is the last day that candidates may file for the primary election on August 4 to insure their names going on the ballots.

On the Democratic ticket there is only one place that no one has filed for up to Monday. That is for judge of the county court from the south district. R. M. Heflin of Ravenwood is being mentioned and will probably file in the next day or two.

On the Republican ticket no one has filed for representative, judge of the county court from the north district, circuit clerk and prosecuting attorney.

The Progressive party has not filed as yet, but according to a prominent member of that party they will have a full county ticket, and they will file within the next day or two.

The following are those that have filed on the Democratic ticket:

Arthur S. Robey for representative.

S. H. Williams, John Gex and Wm. Blackford for presiding judge.

Dan R. Baker and Alex Fraser for recorder.

Ellis G. Cook, Wm. G. Sawyers and Charles F. McCaffrey for prosecuting attorney.

L. P. Colvin and Henry Westfall for circuit clerk.

Fred J. Yeomans, Prof. B. F. Duncan and Frank Bolin for county clerk.

S. E. Browne and Jesse R. Robertson for probate judge.

John Campbell of Independence township for judge of the county court from the north district.

On the Republican ticket the following have filed:

W. O. Garrett for presiding judge of the county court.

Jesse Spoonemore for judge of the county court from the south district.

J. Arthur Wray for recorder.

C. G. McMillen for county clerk.

W. H. Conn for probate judge.

STRUCK OUT TWENTY-ONE MEN.

Ham Pitched a No-Hit Game at Guilford Sunday in a 9 to 0 Game With Krug Park Boosters.

Frank Ham of Guilford pitched a no-hit game for that team Sunday against the Krug Park Boosters of St. Joseph. Ham has been pitching for the Normal team all season and has proven himself to be their most valuable man. Ham is an all-round athlete and one of the best pitchers that has appeared in the Normal colors for several years.

The Krug Park Boosters are one of the fastest amateur teams in St. Joseph, thus making the victory worth twice as much.

The heavy hitting of Guilford was another feature of the game. The Guilford team had sixteen hits to their credit while the Boosters had none. The score by innings follows.

Guilford 1 0 3 1 2 0 2 0 6	9	16	1
Krug Park 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	0	5

Judge W. H. Crawford left yesterday morning for Springfield, Mo., on a short business trip. He was accompanied by Mrs. Crawford.

ENROLLMENT 385

ON THE OPENING DAY OF THE SUMMER TERM TODAY.

WILL REACH OVER 900

This Term of the Normal Will Be the Largest Attended Session Yet Held —Many Coming in This Week.

The summer term of the Normal school opened today with the largest attendance for the opening day of any summer term yet held, and the indications are that it will be the largest attended term of the school by a large number.

Treasurer E. E. Williams of the Real Estate bank reported that 385 had paid tuition up to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and that they were still coming in. It is expected that the enrollment will reach 900 by the last of the week.

All of the trains coming to Maryville Sunday and Monday were filled with Normal students, and a busy appearance was presented by them at the depots.

A number of prominent educators of the country have been engaged for a portion of their time during the summer term. The first one to appear here will be Dr. J. J. Findlay of the University of Manchester, England, who is expected to be here Wednesday. He will give several talks.

DEATH OF MRS. BYERS.

Mrs. Andrew Byers, 85 Years of Age, Died Friday After a Short Illness.

Mrs. Andrew Byers, an aged resident of this city, died at her home, on South Hester street, Friday, after a short illness, due partly to old age. Mrs. Byers was a well known and respected resident of this city, having lived here for a number of years.

She was born April 13, 1829, in Ohio, and moved to Illinois in 1837. Mrs. Byers' father bears the distinction of bringing the first cook stove into Fulton county, Illinois, and it was a fond recollection of Mrs. Byers to recall the fact of how people came for miles around to see the wonderful things it would do. The family moved to Page county, Iowa, in 1867, and she was married to Andrew Byers in 1868.

Two children, L. S. Byers of this city and Effie L. Byers, who died July 3, 1893, were the only children.

The services were conducted Sunday from the home at 2 o'clock by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the Methodist Episcopal church. Burial services were held in Miriam cemetery.

ALL STARS DEFEATED.

The Bedford Team Defeated Them Sunday by a Score of 29 to 15.

The All Stars met their Waterloo Sunday when the Bedford aggregation defeated them 29 to 15 in a loosely played game. Both teams were good at the bat, and this is one cause for the swatfest score. There was a large crowd in attendance, it being the first game of the season at the Riffe park. The Maryville Concert band gave an hour's concert before the game.

Arthur B. Bosley was appointed administrator of the estate of Nancy C. Bosley, who died at her home in Burlington Junction, April 24.

Mrs. Harold VanSteenbergh returned Monday from a visit at Hopkins, where she was the guest of the E. C. Wolfers family.

Kirby Taylor of St. Joseph spent Sunday visiting friends in Maryville.

THE BANKERS WON.

In Base Ball Game Saturday Afternoon Over the Postoffice Team by Score of 23 to 13.

The bankers base ball team defeated the postoffice ball team Saturday afternoon by the decisive score of 23 to 13, at the Normal ball park. Until the third inning it was anybody's game, but after that the bankers began to get a lead, which they gradually increased until the end of the game. Pitcher Burt Rowley starred for the bankers, lasting out the whole seven innings, while the federal building club used three twirlers all told. Equal in the honor list with Rowley was Second Baseman McClary, who was easily the premier slugger of the contest.

Irvin, Funk and Moore were the most effective hitters for the postoffice squad, each lining out several long ones.

In the third inning a decision of Rev. Robert L. Finch, who was umpire, was questioned by the contesting teams, and the "umps" was attacked. He escaped, however, by fleeing to Mayor U. S. Wright, who gave him a "billy club," revolver, policeman's hat and an official eight-inch star. Thus reinforced, Umpire Finch returned and finished the game without further argument. The score by innings follows:

Bankers 0 2 3 0 8 7 3
Postoffice 5 0 1 2 0 2 3

The proceeds of the game were donated to help furnish the new rest rooms in the basement of the court house.

HOPKINS ELECTION

ELECTRIC LIGHT PROPOSITION IS CARRYING THERE TODAY.

NOT MUCH OPPOSITION

A. H. Dalby of Grant City is to Put in the Plant and an 18-Hour Service Will Be Had.

A special election is being held today at Hopkins to vote on the electric light proposition, and at 3 o'clock this afternoon a dispatch from that town stated that the proposition was carrying by a big vote, and that there was really no opposition. A good vote is polled and many workers were out working for the proposition.

The contract and franchise for the electric lights which is being voted on today at that town accepts the proposition of A. H. Dalby of Grant City to furnish an 18-hour service and install forty lights over the business and residence section. There will also be three 600-candle power lights on the business streets. Mr. Dalby will also put in an ice plant with his light plant.

Hopkins has been doing a lot of city improving recently. They have a water system which was completed a few months ago, and with electric lights, an ice plant and a number of other public improvements which they have made it shows that the people up there are public spirited and that nothing is too good for them.

Mediators Decide to Proceed as for Two Parties.

BURDEN IS ON UNCLE SAM

President Wilson Must Say If He Wants Insurgents Recognized—Officials Remain Reticent, Nothing Being Given Out From Washington.

Niagara Falls, June 1.—The South American envoys have virtually resolved to go ahead with their plans for a two-party agreement between the United States and the Huerta government and for the time being ignore the question of constitutionalist representation. The only thing that might disturb such a course would be a direct intimation from the United States that it will withhold approval of the plans outlined for a new provisional government unless disposition is promptly made of the subject of constitutionalist participation. The Mexican delegates have held no conversation with the mediators on this point.

Each side here is waiting on the other to make the first move. The Huerta delegates expect to receive today General Huerta's approval of the essentials of the peace plan, together with his opinion on some of the names suggested for the new government. The United States delegates received much information along this line from Washington, but no intimation as to how far they should press the subject of constitutionalist representation.

At the conference today the attitude of both the mediators and the American delegates toward constitutionalist participation may be more clearly defined. Should the American delegates consent to go ahead with their earlier work on the peace plan, the mediators will continue their efforts toward an agreement. Eventually, it is their purpose to answer General Carranza's last communication, but a change in their attitude toward the constitutionalists may result from an insistence on the part of the American delegates that no agreement can be signed until the third element in the controversy is given an opportunity to express its views. The American delegates are firm in their conviction that some way should be found by which the constitutionalists would be represented here. They are prepared to argue the point further with the mediators, but are awaiting definite instructions from Washington.

KEEP UP WINTERS SEARCH

Fourth Person May Soon Be Brought Into the Case.

Newcastle, Ind., June 1.—Search for a clue to the whereabouts of Catherine Winters, in connection with whose disappearance more than a year ago her father, Dr. W. A. Winters, her stepmother and W. Cooper, a boarder at the Winters home, were arrested, was turned to the former residence of the family.

After a day spent in digging up the grounds and cellar of the family's present home, which resulted in the finding of a small red sweater, hair ribbon and stained undergarments, the searchers opened a disused well at the former residence and dug out a quantity of lime, without, however, finding any new evidence.

R. H. Abel, the detective under whose direction the search was made, issued a statement declaring that additional evidence had been found that warranted taking a fourth person into custody.

The Knockers in Your Town.

This is a day of boosters and boosting. A great majority of our people are desirous of seeing their town grow. Everybody watches the census report just to see how big they have gotten. The thought of advancement seems to be in the popular mind.

But also we have a sort of counter-irritant in every community that we commonly speak of as the knocker. We always have had him, possibly always will. He is with you there in your town and possibly he has a mission to fill.

But whether he is of any use or not, you have him, and should be able to take care of him. Any movement for improvement and betterment in your community will bring him to the fore, and it often happens that your local knocker is the very one who should be the biggest booster in your town.

It often happens, too, that your knocker is not a pessimist at heart, but simply knocks for lack of understanding. He works against his own interest, against the interest of his fellow townsmen, because he really doesn't know what is best for him. This often happens just because people do not put forth any effort to become better acquainted with those about them. The business men in a certain little city feel the need of a new bridge across the river, but the farmers on the other side of the river have been told, by some politician perhaps, who wishes to curry their favor, that such a bridge would be an enormous tax, and those farmers are almost to a man against the bridge proposition just because they do not understand, they have not stopped and seriously considered the situation, they have not realized that a bridge across the stream will bring them nearer to the town, to better markets, to closer fellowship with those of the other side of the stream and that all these things are of value to them. These men are knocking because they do not understand.

Yes, every town seems to have the knocker, but we can not afford to take him seriously; we must simply go on and ignore him. If you have work to do there in your town do it. It may require a little nerve, some backbone and courage, but if a thing needs to be done, it will pay you to do it. Throughout this country there are many towns that have absolutely no reason for not progressing, except that there are some few people in the community who hold back—because there are some knockers to be reckoned with.

Yes, you have him. It may be that he has retired from active business. He has no children to educate, consequently he is not interested in the betterment of the schools. He is penurious and hasn't bought an automobile, so he doesn't care about spending his hard earned money for street improvements. He doesn't hear very well therefore doesn't go to church, so he doesn't feel inclined to contribute to the support of the church. Yes, you have him. There are many such knockers abroad. He is usually selfish and the selfish person is never the best for the community, but since you have him in some form or the other it is necessary for you, the real soldier of advancement, to buckle on your sword and go out and fight the battles of your town and community without paying attention to him. If you can just go on and do things you will be surprised to see how many of the knockers will fall in line, and after while ask to carry the flag or beat the drum.—Merchants' Trade Journal.

Andersen and Kendall Disagree Over Vital Details.

STORSTAD REACHES MONTREAL

Master of Collier Says Empress of Ireland Was Under Headway at Time of Collision, While Storstad's Engines Had Been Reversed.

Montreal, June 1.—The Norwegian collier Storstad docked here with its bows crumpled in and twisted and a gap showing on the port side, only a foot or so above the water line, in mute evidence of the tragedy in which it figured. A few minutes later a warrant of arrest, taken out by the Canadian Pacific Railroad company, was nailed to its mainmast by order of W. Simpson Walker, K. C., registrar of the Quebec admiralty.

"By what authority do you come on board my vessel and place it under arrest?" Captain Andersen, commander of the collier, asked.

"By authority of the British empire," curtly replied the deputy sheriff commissioned to execute the warrant.

No sooner was the vessel moored than it began to unload its cargo of coal, and were it not for the battered condition of its bows it would be difficult to imagine that the collier had so recently taken part in one of the worst marine disasters in the history of Canadian navigation.

The officers and men, however, bore traces of their harrowing experiences. When questioned on the subject of the disaster they were averse to entering into conversation.

Captains Contradict Each Other.

Captain Andersen declined at first to discuss the disaster, declaring that he would make a statement later in the evening. Subsequently, a statement, based on Captain Andersen's report, as well as the reports of other officers, was given out.

According to the captain and officers, contrary to what has been stated by the captain of the Empress of Ireland, the Storstad did not back away after the collision. On the contrary, it steamed ahead in an effort to keep its bow in the hole it had dug into the side of the Empress. The Empress, however, according to the Storstad stories, headed away and bent the Storstad's bow over at an acute angle to port. After that the Empress was hidden from the view of the Storstad and, despite the fact that the Storstad kept its whistles blowing, it could not locate the Empress until the cries of some of the victims in the water were heard.

Captain Andersen denied he moved a mile or so away from the Empress after his vessel struck the liner. The Storstad had not moved. It was the Empress which had changed position, he asserted.

According to the report made by Captain Andersen to the owners, after the collision, he heard Captain Kendall shout, calling on him to pull away.

"I wont," shouted the Storstad's captain, as loud as he could. After that the Empress disappeared from the Storstad's view.

The seizure of the Storstad was at the instance of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, whose claim against the owners of the collier, the Maritime Steamship company of Norway, is for $2,000,000 loss. There may be a further claim by the Canadian Pacific railway for loss of cargo.

Blunder Cost 969 Lives.

While final tabulations of the casualties in the sinking of the ill fated steamer Empress of Ireland were being made, showing that 418 of her passengers and crew had been rescued and 969 had perished, Captain Henry George Kendall of the liner was telling his story of the disaster at an inquiry conducted by Coroner Pinaud at Rimouski, Que.

Captain Kendall, in substance, declared that he had taken all possible precautions against a collision. His ship had been stopped, he gave the requisite signals when the Danish collier Storstad, which dealt the blow which sent the Empress to the bottom, was still two miles away, but the collier had kept on through the fog which settled down soon after the two vessels sighted each other and had rammed the Empress of Ireland while the latter was virtually motionless. Then, despite his plea to the master of the collier that he run his engines full speed ahead to keep the hole in the liner's side plugged with the Storstad's bow, said Captain Kendall, the Danish vessel backed away, the water rushed in and the Empress sank.

Captain, Kendall, who struck to the bridge of his ship to the last and after being picked up by a lifeboat, aided in saving a boat load of drowning persons from the wreck, took up his story of the disaster from the point at which the Empress of Ireland, bound from Quebec for Liverpool, had dropped its pilot at Father Point, near which the disaster occurred.

Bodies Brought to Quebec.

Quebec, June 1.—The Canadian government steamer Lady Grey brought from Rimouski 188 bodies recovered from the wreck of the Empress of Ireland. The coffins were carried ashore and the mournful work of identification began without delay.

VOTE ON TOLLS BY END OF WEEK

No Need Further to Prolong Debate Upon Measure.

Washington, June 1.—The vote on the tolls exemption repeal bill will be taken in the senate before Saturday night, unless all the plans of leaders fail. Both opponents and those who favor the passage of the measure are agreed that there is no need for prolonging debate beyond the present week.

There is a prospect that the house will finish its trio of anti-trust bills by the end of the week and pave the way for adjournment in July if senate leaders can reach an agreement on the amount of trust legislation they believe the country needs and desires at this time.

The appropriation bills can be passed in the senate and house in quick order and practically only the trust program stands in the way of adjournment by July 20, as desired.

The senate committee in charge has put in a week's work on anti-trust bills before it, and is expected to reach a decision on how much legislation it will recommend to the senate by the middle of the week. There is a motion before the committee to report only one bill, in the hope that with its passage adjournment will be taken with the understanding that other trust legislation shall be brought before the senate next winter.

Despite the fact that President Wilson's recent remarks to Ohio and Illinois business men are regarded in some quarters as an announcement that he will not be satisfied with less than all three trust bills to be passed by the house, many senators are said to feel that the passage of a trade commission bill by the senate will prove sufficient.

The tolls repeal bill will figure daily in the senate until the vote is taken, but the first test for the senators who favor arbitration of the question of American exemption of coastwise ships from toll payments will come Wednesday, when the foreign relations committee will vote on arbitration resolutions. Even the friends of arbitration do not claim that a favorable report from this committee will mean that the arbitration plan will be adopted, but the committee's action is awaited with interest.

Chicago, June 1.—Hugh and August C. Becker, brothers, were electrocuted as they stepped from a florists, where they had purchased flowers for the funeral of their younger brother, Andrew, who was killed in a motorcycle collision.

The two brothers emerged from the store with their arms filled with wreaths and stepped to the edge of the walk. An electric light wire fell and curled about the neck of August. He was enveloped in flame and died instantly. His brother, Hugh, grapsed the wire to uncoil it and met a similar fate.
